Hay soup

INGREDIENTS

50 g	hay flowers (available from the pharmacy)
$\frac{1}{2}$ l	water
$\frac{1}{2}$ l	Gewürztraminer grapes
30 g	butter
30 g	fine plain flour
$\frac{1}{2}$ l	cream
	Salt, white pepper from the mill, nutmeg
	Fresh flowers as garnish

- Bring the Gewürztraminer grapes to the boil in a pot and reduce the heat to half. Then add the water and bring it to the boil with the hay flowers.
- Remove the pot from the hob and allow the ingredients to infuse for approx. 20 minutes before straining them.
- Melt the butter in a pot and add the flour until it creates a light roux.
- Pour the hay flower water over the roux and bring to the boil once again.
- Add the cream and cook all ingredients on a medium heat for approx. 8 to 10 minutes.
- Season with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Serve the soup in a bowl and garnish with flowers.

Roscht spread

INGREDIENTS

100 g Astra fat spread
90 g plain flour
30 g white sugar

METHOD

- Melt the Astra fat spread in a frying pan.
- Keep adding the flour until it is combined with the grease.
- Add the sugar. You can adjust the amount of sugar to your liking – if you would prefer it to be less sweet, you should use less than 30 grams. The more flour you use, the thicker the spread will be. Therefore, simply adjust the amount according to your taste.
- The higher the heat when stirring, the darker the spread will be. The same applies to the amount of time. The longer you leave the mixture in the pan, the darker it will become. You should thus heat it according to your own judgment. Spread the warm spread onto the bread immediately and enjoy your breakfast.
- You can store the Roscht spread in the fridge, but it will then harden. To use again, simply warm it up briefly in the microwave or in a pan.
